Honesdale and Greater Honesdale

The commissioners of Wayne will meet on Saturday of this week.

No rural free delivery routes go from Honesdale on Thanksgiving Day.

It is expected that the pamphlets of the legislative session of 1913 will be issued from Harrisburg about Dec. 1st.

The new steel tower for the clock at T. B. Clark's factory at Andin was completed a few days ago. It is about 70 feet high and is erected by two men.

The viewers in the condemnation proceedings of Joseph P. Page against the Ontario & Western railroad company have appointed Friday, November 28, for the time of viewing the land in dispute and of giving the testimony, which will be Poyntelle.

The "True Tone," a musical instrument paper published by the Escher instrument people at Ellettsville, Indiana, during the past week contained an excellent half-tone reproduction of Jenkins' Boy Band of this place. As this paper only recognizes musical organizations of own standing, it is quite a boost to the Honesdale boys.

The deer season closed on Wednesday, November 25, after a very successful hunt on the part of the hundreds of hunters who went into Pike county woods. Only a few from Honesdale took advantage of the short open season and only one man from Honesdale shot a deer. That was our genial Register Recorder, W. Brock Leshner. The deer from Hawley came back in game.

Mrs. Salo Friedewald will not be in Honesdale on Saturday, Nov. 29. Her next reading at the High school auditorium will take place on Saturday, December 6th. The book chosen is "Richard Feverel," by George Meredith.

Sheriff Jerome Farrell, of Hancock, N. Y., has a force of men at work on a good sized lumber job on Campbell Brook. Thirteen men are now employed. A steam saw mill is in operation and teams are kept busy every week day hauling logs to the mill. About 3,000,000 feet of lumber, all hardwood, will be sawed, and it is thought the job will last three years.

Among the twelve corporations against which proceedings have been begun to recover $10,000 penalty provided in a federal law of 1909 for not reporting the gross and net earnings and business at the required time, is the Waverly, Sayre and Athens Traction company of Waverly. The action has been brought in United States court of the Northern District of New York.

Rev. C. C. Miller, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, preached an eloquent Thanksgiving sermon to a large audience Sunday evening. About one hundred members of the Honesdale Junior Order of United American Mechanics attended the services in a body. The church was decorated with the Stars and Stripes. The usual Thanksgiving service will be held in the church Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Erie Trainman James A. O'Malley of the Delaware Division suffered a serious injury to his foot in the Port Jervis yard Sunday afternoon. He was going out on a westbound train and was going over an oil car when he slipped and fell to the tracks. His left foot went under the wheels and four toes were badly smashed. He may lose the little toe. He was taken to the Port Jervis Hospital and was admitted for treatment. The injured man resides in Forest City, Pa.

Attendants at the County hospital at Chicago were unable recently to learn the identity of a patient who came to the hospital complaining that he could not remember his name or home. The man is about 40 years old and well dressed. He recalled, under questioning, that he was born in Liverpool. The man went to the hospital of his own accord and said he had been wandering around several days and did not know who he was. The initials "C.C." were on his collar.

At the present time forty-five farmers of Northern Wayne county deliver milk at the Borden station at Lakewood. Just at this time the supply is rather limited, but 3,000 quarts being received daily. This amount will soon be greatly increased, as new milkers are coming in daily. With the two premiums added during the month of October, the price paid was $1.90 per 100 pounds. The increase for November will be still greater, with which fact the patrons are well pleased.

Mark Bregstein was the recipient on Monday of a sample of the kind of poultry that is produced in Ohio and the same will be prepared for culinary purposes and will adorn the Bregstein table on Thanksgiving day. A chicken and a mammoth goose were sent by August Bregstein, who is conducting the other store owned by the firm of Bregstein Brothers at Kenton, Ohio. The chicken weighed sixteen pounds while the goose—so Mike says—tipped the scales at 64 pounds. That must surely hold the record for weight and we doubt if Wayne county farmers will believe it.

Mad with pain from the wound of a rifle ball, an immense bear turned upon Charles Herman, one of the hunters of Rocky Hill Camp, Pike county, and forced him to run for his life. Herman took to a tree and remained there for several hours until discovered by other members of the camp. He was weak from continued suspense and exhaustion. Herman was the "chief cook and bottle washer" of the outfit and it was with considerable annoyance that they found him missing upon the day of the adventure, with no supper simmering over the fire for them. Herman said he fired one shot at the bear, which took effect when he climbed the tree. The Rocky Hill camp hunters succeeded in getting two bucks, twenty-three pheasants, five jack rabbits and a large red fox.

Numerous power dams and fills contemplated along streams in the western section of the State, where the question of power is receiving very serious consideration, will have to stand exceedingly close scrutiny, not only from the State Water Supply Commission, but from the State Departments of Highways and Fisheries. Over a score of projects are now held up pending reports by engineers upon the effects of their construction on water supply, fishing and roads and the most exhaustive data is being prepared on them. Engineers are engaged in looking over half a dozen sites for power dams on the Allegheny river system and Fisheries Commissioner N. R. Buller has just completed a series of visits to places in Crawford, Mercer and adjoining counties to scan the arrangements to be made for fishways in the dams.

On Friday evening last burglars entered the home of James Moran at West End. Mrs. Moran was at Starucca visiting her parents, and as Mr. Moran, who is employed as freight agent at the Erie depot, returned home about 9 o'clock he heard a great commotion from within. Upon entering he found that burglars had been busily engaged ransacking the house for valuables, and that the racket had been caused by their hasty exit via the kitchen door. They had gained entrance through one of the dining room windows. Mr. Moran found the contents of drawers and other receptacles on the second floor disarranged and scattered about the rooms. The work was evidently that of local light fingered gentry familiar with the house. Articles stolen were three rings and a set of silver teaspoons.—Hancock Herald.

The late George A. B. Miller carried $1,000 in the Hartford Life Insurance company.

Miss Mae Penwarden entertained at cards on Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Blandin. Refreshments were served.

Born, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Angus Lawyer, of New York City, Tuesday evening. Grace Eleanor is the name of the little arrival.

County Treasurer W. W. Wood has issued 1835 hunters' licenses up to date and says that this week will probably end the rush as far as his office end is concerned.

According to the one hundred and ninety candidates who have filed their expense accounts with Prothonotary Barnes, not one of them spent more than $50 in securing the election. W. J. Silverstone, candidate for burgess, was the first to file his expense account. Mr. Silverstone was the first also to file his petition for the office.

The local Camp Fire Girls have issued invitations to a Cinderella dance at the high school gymnasium on Thanksgiving night. On the invitations is a quaint, original poem inviting the guest to come and they are printed by hand. The girls in charge of the dance are Misses Minnie Schoell, guardian, Winnie Curtis, Grace Miller, Anna Lambert, Ruth Freeman, Delcy Reifer and Adeline Dunning.

Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart of Harrisburg, said Monday morning when asked about a report that he had been notified that the services of Pennsylvania troops might be required for Mexico or border service. "There is no truth in that story. I have had no notice and no orders have been issued. But what's the use of even denying such stories?"

A dispatch from Jesup, Ga., says that one day recently scores of passengers left the coaches of a railway train sixteen miles north of that place to shake the hand of a tramp who saved their lives. The train, carrying four crowded sleepers and several day coaches, was rushing toward a broken rail at a speed of fifty miles an hour, when the tramp appeared in front of the locomotive wildly waving his arms. When the engineer stopped the train it was within a few feet of the bad rail.

The trial of Richard Harms, who was charged with setting fire to the Mansion House at Liberty some time ago, has been concluded in the county court at Monticello. The case attracted considerable attention throughout Sullivan county. The jury in the case returned a verdict of "Guilty" Thursday afternoon after deliberating about five hours. The counsel for the defendant are preparing an appeal for a new trial. It was brought out in the evidence that the defendant had purchased the property for $14,000 from Geo. W. Murphy, paying for it out of a loan of $15,000 from the Port Jervis Building and Loan Association and that he had afterwards insured the property for $17,500. Harms is alleged to have attempted to set fire to the building several times.

PAIN IN THE EAR IS DANGER SIGNAL

NEGLECT MAY LEAD TO PERMANENT DEAFNESS, SAYS DR. NEFF.

Don't Box or Pull Your Child's Ears as Punishment, Is His Advice—Sense of Hearing May be Endangered.

"Don't box or pull your child's ears as a punishment and don't ignore a child's complaint of earache. Pain in the ear is always a danger signal. This is the advice of Dr. Joseph S. Neff, Director of Public Health and Charities, in a bulletin issued to the public recently in Philadelphia.

"Among the most common complications and sequels of the diseases which are prevalent during the cold weather season, especially among children are 'diseases of the ear,' says Dr. Neff. 'The ear may be attacked by any of the diseases which affect the lining membrane of the nose and throat such as colds, grippe, scarlet fever, measles and diphtheria.

"Enlarged tonsils and adenoids interfere with the health of the ears and are a common cause of impaired hearing among children. Less than two-thirds of ear defects found in our school children are corrected in response to recommendations made to parents by the school medical inspectors.

"The sense of hearing is so important to the progress of the child in school and to his efficiency in after life that no time should be lost in giving any disease or defect found in his ears the best medical attention available. In most cases hearing can be saved or greatly improved by appropriate treatment administered in time, whereas, the condition, if neglected, may grow rapidly worse and end in permanent deafness, or, in the case of running ears, in addition to deafness, may be a constant danger to the life of the child.

"The observance of the following 'don'ts' will accomplish much for the conservation of hearing.

"Don't neglect an ear in which the hearing is falling. The trouble may be cured or kept from getting worse before complete deafness sets in.

"Don't neglect adenoids, a common cause of defective hearing.

"Don't force disease into the ears by blowing the nose too hard while the nostrils are being held partly closed. Always blow the nose gently, one nostril at a time.

"Don't pick the ears or put instruments of any kind, such as tooth-picks, hairpins, earspoons and the like, into the canal of the ear."

WHAT THE BEREAN CHURCH WANTS "DONE ABOUT IT"

The Official Board, "After Mature Deliberation," Passes Resolutions Condemning "Certain Newspapers" and Demanding Action on the Part of the Authorities.

[Many people have inquired regarding what action the Berean Baptist church, as a body, would take regarding the recent destruction of its property. In Tuesday's Scranton News was published a complete answer to all such inquiries, which we reproduce in its entirety below.—Ed. Citizen.]

Whereas, Since the criminal attack, of a mob of men and women, upon the property of the Berean Baptist church of Carbondale, on November 7th, a sufficient time has passed to permit a dispassionate statement to be made, and

THANK YOU! In all sincerity the undersigned expresses his thanks to the Wayne County public because so many of the good people learned that there is a good reason WHY "Luke Levy Wants to See You!" At the Model Clothing House I have shown them how it is possible to get Model garments—Model in quality of cloth, in design, in make and in price. YOU have thanked me for my service, and it is my turn now to THANK YOU. That makes a real Thanksgiving, doesn't it? But Luke Levy wants to see a lot more of you, while the Tariff reduction in All Wool fabrics is effective. It will be to YOUR interest. Yours Thankfully, LUKE LEVY
